4. COOKIES

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small piece of data sent by a website and installed on the User's computer.

Why do websites use cookies?

Web pages have no memory. When the User navigates from page to page on the same website, he or she will not be recognized as the same person on these pages. Cookies allow the website to recognize the user's browser. They are mainly used to keep track of the user's choices and preferences (such as language or currency), or to recognize when the user returns to the same site.

Do all cookies have the same function?

No, there are different types of cookies, which have different functions. Cookies vary according to their role, their length of validity and the third parties that put them on a website.

How does the Site Publisher use cookies?

When the User connects to the Site, the Publisher installs various cookies in the User's computer to recognize the browser during the cookies' period of validity. These cookies are used in the following ways:

- A Cookie to ensure the smooth running of the command: These cookies are essential to the operation of our Site. We use them for online bookings. They allow you to store such things as the date you want to ski, and the number of skiers and their names. Without cookies, you could not book online as when you proceed through the booking process, the Site would forget the information already provided.

- Google Analytics: We use cookies provided by Google Analytics to evaluate the effectiveness of our Site and understand how visitors use our Site. This information allows us to know which are the most attractive pages, which products most interest our customers and what types of offers they prefer. Although it is Google Analytics which records the information provided to us by our Site, we control the use of this data. If you do not wish to participate in the improvement of our Site, our products, our offers and our marketing strategy, you can disable this website analytical tool by clicking on the following link: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>

- Functionality Cookies: These cookies allow us to remember your choice (such as your user name, the language you selected or your region) and offer optimized and customized features.

Cookie management is different on each browser. This is described in the help menu of the browser, which informs the User how to change cookie options. The User can choose at any time to modify his or her cookies requirements by the means described below:

Internet Explorer ™

Safari ™

For Chrome ™

For Firefox ™

Opera ™

5. PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

The treatment of personal data collected on the site has been officially declared to the CNIL.

Under the Data Protection Act of 6 January 1978, all of the information requested on the Site and covered by an asterisk is mandatory, so that the editor can process User orders.

If any required information is missing, Méribel Alpina cannot process orders.

This information is intended for Méribel Alpina.

Special offers may also be addressed by Méribel Alpina and its trading partners to the User, unless opposed by the latter.

The User has a right of access, rectification and opposition for legitimate reasons on data concerning him, by sending a request to Méribel Alpina Service Commercial, Route de la Chaudanne, 73550 Méribel, France.

Date collected by: Méribel Alpina.

Purpose(s) of data collection: Tickets / canvassing and commercial management.

6. LIABILITY

The publisher's Site endeavours to provide Users with information and / or working tools, but cannot be held responsible for a lack of availability of information and / or the presence of a virus on the Site.

In addition, the Publisher cannot be held liable for information given on websites it links to via hyperlinks and over which he has no editorial control.

For maintenance purposes, the Publisher may interrupt the running of the Site and will endeavour to forewarn users.

The User acknowledges these conditions and agrees to abide by them. The User acknowledges, having verified, that his/her computer setup does not contain any virus and is in perfect working condition.
